

These photographs help us remember: that the history and culture of others may be different than our own but provide a richness of experience and a quality to life, one should seek after, appreciate and grow from.

On Wednesday evening, the VIM team had dinner at a restaurant located in the mountain area overlooking the San Jose city. During dinner and afterward, local musicians and dancers provided entertainment featuring folk music and dances native to Costa Rica.